

BECCA

Poa pratensis

- Winter colour in top
- Fine leaves ad libitum
- Adaptable to several heights of cutting
- Slow growth for less use of fossil fuel
- All-round use for both sport and recreational purposes.

Topranked multipurpose grass

With Becca you will find you self-tied to a grass fitting topranked for scandinavian conition, but it does not stop here as you also find Becca in the top of the list in Holland and UK.

Green, dense and fine

Becca outperform other grasses in fineness of leaves and you might even say Becca set a new standard, and this not only in fineness of leaves but also in density and colour, and namely winter colour will blow you mind.

Inject your garden with a dose sustainability

Less use of chemicals and fossil fuel is also your gain using Becca. Its high degree in resistance to gray snow mould and its low growth rate when first established decreases your need of chemicals and fossil fuels. With less clipping you also get more time to enjoy life.
