

STEFANI

Lolium perenne

- Best summer performance
- High rust resistance
- Good ground cover
- Good winter hardiness

Improved yield in summer and autumn

One of the few varieties in the late group with a 7 for DM yield in further cuts on the BSA list in Germany.

This variety is the first step into balanced yield over the year.

The third and fourth cuts are also delivering a high contribution to the total yield of Stefani.

So Stefani could be an ideal partner in a mixture with a variety focused on the first cut yield like Kentaur. The yield performance will complement one another perfectly.

Good rust resistance

In a Benelux „antirust mixture", Stefani will fit in perfectly.

In rust trials, Stefani has shown excellent rust resistance. Stefani is a variety for the sophisticated mixture!
